Dear Stella Community,

2016 School Captain and Vice Captains

This week we announced the Student Leadership Team for 2016 with Hayley Jago elected as School Captain and Bella Filacuridi, Lilly Mills and Gemma Williams taking positions as Vice Captains. On your behalf, I thank these girls for taking on these significant leadership roles at Stella Maris. Their first formal duty will be to assist with the Graduation Ceremony and Mass at St Mary’s Church in the last week of term.

Congratulations - Stella Elite Sport Achievers

It is heartening to note the Catholic School Sport Service (CSSS) had 35 entries so far in 2015 for representative (diocesan, combined Catholic and state) sport in fields as diverse as Cross Country, Swimming, Athletics, Touch, Triathlon, Football, Softball and Netball. We are currently exploring ways in which we could offer an Elite Sportswomen Program in 2016. We will keep you informed about this exciting opportunity to be offered at Stella Maris in 2016.

Some recent sporting achievements by Stella individuals and teams:

- Teigan O’Shannessy has been chosen for the 2015 NSWIS Netball Squad
- Stella’s Intermediate Soccer team won BBSSSA
- Junior Soccer were runners up in BBSSSA
- Junior Netball team CCC minor division winners

Stella Maris responds to NAPLAN results

On Wednesday this week, NSW Education Minister, Adrian Piccoli stated that NSW results in NAPLAN remain at a high level and rank well against the other Australian states, however, feedback can inform what we do in schools to encourage improvement. Brett Foster and Louise Yeates are currently scrutinizing 2015 NAPLAN results to in order to offer feedback to students, parents and the community regarding their achievement. Our current Year 9 students achieved well in reading and writing and Year 7 students are consistent in literacy outcomes.

Professor Geoff Masters wrote this week in the Sydney Morning Herald that, ‘The OECD’s Program for International Student Assessment (PISA) shows some countries have succeeded in lifting performance while reducing differences related to socioeconomic background... Although Australia performs relatively well in PISA there are trends that should be of concern. These include a steady decline in the average performance of Australian 15-year-olds since 2000 and no reduction in the relationship between student performance and socioeconomic background.” (SMH - Comment, 20 August, 2015).

Stella Maris College has a clear focus on improvement in learning and teaching and we will use this data, along with other records including school based reporting, analysis of HSC results and ACER (Australian Council for Educational Research) data, to track our student progress. You would also know from parent evenings that my focus is to encourage the three-way support between the teacher, student and parent/carer to achieve the best outcomes for our Stella girls.

Awareness Walk

Stella girls made a beautiful sight as they wound their way along the beaches to Dee Why Beach and back on Tuesday this week. The aim was to walk in someone else’s shoes - to have empathy for millions of children who have to walk many kilometres to reach school everyday. It was such a well-organised event with staff at checkpoints and Ms Ryland and Ms Molloy retrieving students who weren’t able to complete the walk due to ankle sprains or blisters. Thanks to Ms Collins and Mr Cruise for the great organisation and liaison with the staff and students.

I appreciated the girls’ grit in completing the event without the support of mums/dads or the use of a bus. I read earlier that morning about Jason Day’s emotional win in the US Open and that he had observed that it was good to understand how far he really could push himself as he battled through bouts of vertigo in recent tournaments. Our girls will be better for having pushed themselves with this event and they should be proud that they have raised over $10500 for the Good Samaritan Kinder School in Bacolod, in the Philippines.

Prayer

We pray this week for that young people everywhere will gain the education, wisdom, and discernment they need to reach the fullness of life God intends for each of them.

Creator God,
We pray that world leaders make education for all children a priority.
We pray that governments build capacity to provide adequate schooling for all children.
We pray that parents will understand the importance of schooling for their children and do everything they can to make sure their kids go to school and stay in school.

AMEN

As the Book of Proverbs (Proverbs 4:13) says, “Hold on to instruction; do not let it go; guard it well, for it is your life.”

IT’S ALL ABOUT LEARNING!

I have had the opportunity this week to attend the Australian Council for Educational Research (ACER) conference in Melbourne. This conference is one of the most preeminent gatherings of academic researchers in Australia to discuss what the current research is telling us about education.

Parents who I have addressed this year and those who regularly read the newsletter will note my comments on the importance of us as parents and educators lessening the immense focus on grades/marks and moreover emphasising learning and improvement. The conference in Melbourne has focussed on Assessment for the future and one of the key themes has been just that. Schools/parents and students need to change the focus to understand that learning is not just defined as a grade but moreover as “the progress or improvement that students make throughout the year”.

Has the child who has received a ‘B’ in Year 9 and then again in Year 10 actually improved or are they in the same place 12 months later? Have they mastered content and improved skills, and if so to what extent? And of greater importance, how do we actually measure improvement? Is it simply the mastery of content that a 15 year old is expected to know?

Content does have a place, in fact it is still highly relevant, however, todays students are required to have far more skills than just knowing content...and we can measure the improvement of such skills as they progress.

These skills are required to excel in the world in which they will graduate. The Australian Curriculum, Assessment and Reporting Authority (ACARA) has termed these skills ‘General Capabilities’. ACARA suggests that “they encompass knowledge, skills, behaviours and dispositions that, together with curriculum content in each learning area and the cross-curriculum priorities, will assist students to live and work successfully in the twenty-first century”.

The General Capabilities listed are:

- Literacy
- Numeracy
- Information and communication technology capability
- Critical and creative thinking
- Personal and social capability
- Ethical understanding
- Intercultural understanding

There are significant lessons here for schools and indeed policy makers. As the NSW papers trumpet NAPALN results and the concerns around them this week it is no surprise to see Literacy and Numeracy at the top of these general capabilities along with the ability to use ICT.

The four bottom capabilities need to be addressed just as comprehensively however. The challenge for schools is to ensure these are built into the curriculum along with the 3 R’s to ensure we graduate girls who can fully participate in the society in which they live.

Brett Foster, Director of Innovative Learning
Teaching Degrees - new changes

The Minister for Education recently announced that NSW school leavers entering teaching degrees in 2016 will need to achieve three Band 5 HSC results including in English. The Board of Studies, Teaching and Educational Standards (BOSTES) has worked closely with vice-chancellors and other staff from all NSW teacher education providers to implement strengthened academic requirements for admission into teaching degrees. Universities will provide a number of BOSTES approved options for addressing these strengthened entry requirements including strengthened discipline underpinning the early stages of a program as well as a range of pathways into teaching for school leavers who do not achieve the required three Band 5 results including in English. Students interested in studying teaching should check with UAC or directly with universities for the specific pathways they offer.

AWARENESS WALK

On Tuesday 18 August, the Stella Maris community participated in an awareness walk – a 12 km return trip from Manly to Dee Why in their school uniforms. The purpose of the walk was to help students empathise with the millions of children around the world who walk up to 22 kilometers per day for the privilege of an education. It also helped raise close to $10500 for the Good Samaritan Kinder School in the Philippines – the Stella Maris ‘sister school’ that provides education and meals to children who live in the slum areas of Bacolod City.

Almost 1000 girls from Years 7-12 and staff completed the walk within three hours which was an amazing effort. Many Year 7 students also carried their bags on the walk. Courtney Rafferty from Year 7 stated, “I wanted to feel exactly what other children feel in other countries”.

Matilda Gould, the College Captain said, “It was confronting to think that so many children walk these distances to school every day. It was also mind-blowing that this was only a small taste of their daily reality”.

Money keeps pouring in for the Kinder School but at this stage we have almost reached $10500. We are so thankful for our generous community who want to make a difference to the lives of others - thank you!

Stella Maris College would also like to thank the anonymous couple who donated $50 to a group of Year 8 students during the walk after finding out about the cause. Thank you for your kindness and support.

BBSSSA SOCCER

The Stella girls had an awesome day on Wednesday at Cromer Park participating in the BBSSSA Soccer. It was the third attempt at running the gala that was continually washed out.

The junior team went through the round games with 2 wins and a draw, then went on to play the semi-final against St Josephs in which they played exceptionally well winning and putting them through to the final. The final was an incredibly tight match against Mater Maria. In the end Mater found the back of the net and the 1-0 win was theirs. The Stella girls finished runner-ups. A big thank you to Dayna Biasi in Year 11 for coaching the junior team.

The intermediate girls started the day slowly and made it into the series on a goal count back. The round games were their warm up and the real team arrived for the final series. They played Mater Maria in the semi-final where they dominated possession and were incredible in their attack on goal. In the end they beat Mater Maria convincingly despite an awesome game by their goalie. Stella then went on to play St Josephs in the final. The match was tough but you could tell the Stella girls were determined to take the tournament which in the end they did with a 1-0 win. Congratulations to the intermediate girls for such an incredible come back.

You’ve spent hours preparing a home-cooked family meal, only for the kids to refuse to eat it. We’ve all been there. Here at Tiny Bites Cooking School, we’re here to help! Book into our No Fuss Meals cooking class and learn how to make a range of healthy family meals and have your questions answered. Our classes are developed by a professional chef and an accredited paediatric dietitian so you’re learning skills and recipes that you can count on. You’ll get a 3-hour hands-on cooking class and you can take home the meals that you make, so the whole family can enjoy them! Continue to be supported afterwards with 6 months membership to the Tiny Bites Cooking Online Community. We want to help you get your little ones started on a lifetime of healthy eating.
